REPUBLIC OF GUINEA-BISSAU
INVESTMENT CODE
Law no. 3/2011

6 July 2011

PREAMBLE

The political and economic changes that occurred in Guinea-Bissau in the last two decades, among which we can highlight the rapid implementation of a market economy, open to the outside world, the constitutional and institutional consecration of a democratic multiparty, enhanced participation in the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), as well as the country's accession to the West African Monetary Union (WAMU) and the West Africa Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU), demanded the revision of the Investment Code approved by Decree Law 4/91 of 14 October. The Investment Code currently in force, approved by Decree-Law No. 03/2009 of 31 December, sought to outline a model that reflects the principles guiding a market economy, make more transparent the incentive-allocation process and limit the scope of the contractual regime, a source of uncertainty and arbitrariness, discouraging investment.

While it has created a secure legal framework for investment, which makes no distinction between domestic and foreign investors, and has simplified bureaucratic procedures necessary for conducting investment operations and consecrated transparent rules for granting tax benefits, the current code has not succeeded in attracting foreign investment. Rather it was deemed, on different occasions, as an inhibiting factor working against investment. In fact, in the light of recent experience, the only proposed incentive - tax credit - was unable to attract investors, because it has proved less generous than those offered by all other member countries of WAEMU and also relative to those provided either in previous versions of the Investment Code or in the current version of the draft community Investment Code under discussion within WAEMU.

The Investment Code approved by this law, besides dealing with this issue, seeks to harmonize the rules in force in the Republic of Guinea-Bissau with the current version of the draft Community Code with a view to ensuring a smooth transition, with little changes, for an eventual alignment of legislation in this area in the framework of our sub-regional economic integration.

The Government thus submits to the National Assembly, in accordance with subparagraph c) of paragraph 1 of Article 85 of the Constitution, the following bill:

ARTICLE 1

Approval

The new Investment Code is hereby approved and is attached to this bill, of which it is an integral part.

ARTICLE 2

Revocation

1. All laws contrary to this Code, including the Investment Code approved by Decree-Law no. 03/2009 of 31 December, and all laws dealing with tax incentives, with the exception of the diplomas referred in paragraph 2 of Article 2 of this Code are hereby revoked.

2. Tax benefits granted under the repealed provisions of the preceding paragraph are safeguarded.

ARTICLE 3

Entry into force

This Law shall enter into force thirty days after its publication.

Approved by the Council of Ministers of 29 April 2011, pursuant to paragraph 2 of Article 100 of the Rules of Procedure of the National Assembly.

The Prime Minister,
Carlos Gomes Júnior,

The Minister of Economy, Planning and Regional Integration,
Helena Nosolini Embaló

The Minister of Finance,
José Mário Vaz

CODE OF INVESTMENT

CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE 1

(Definitions)

For the purposes of this Code the following definitions shall apply:

Economic activity: the production and/or marketing of goods and/or services, whatever their nature, carried out by a natural or legal person, in any sector of the economy.

BCEAO: Central Bank of West African States.

ECOWAS: Economic Community of West African States.

WAEMU: West African Economic and Monetary African.

Company: any unit of production, processing, marketing and/or distribution of goods or services, geared for profit, whatever their legal form.

State: Republic of Guinea-Bissau, represented as required by its Constitution.

Investor: any natural or legal person, of any nationality, who conducts or has conducted in the past operations of investment funds and/or materials in economic activities in the territory of Guinea-Bissau.

Investment: the set of capitals, tangible or intangible assets, or credits, used by investors in the creation, modernization or expansion of economic activities.

Foreign investment: every investment made by an investor, whose resources do not originate in the country.

Reinvestment: application in the same or another company of all or part of profits generated by virtue of an investment. Under the application of this Code, reinvestment transactions are treated as investment.

Investment Convention or Agreement: the agreement whereby the Government and investors assume their obligations under an investment project.

ARTICLE 2

(Purpose and Scope)

1. This Code aims to encourage and guarantee investments in the Republic of Guinea-Bissau and applies indiscriminately to investments, irrespective of the sector of operation of business, the nationality of the investor and the legal form of the company, or any other distinction nature, except as provided in this Code.
2. Exceptions to this Code relate to investments in the areas of mining, oil and forestry, as well as those in free zones and duty free shops, which are governed under the legislation itself or investment contracts.

CHAPTER II

RIGHTS AND GUARANTEES

ARTICLE 3

(Free Initiative)

The State guarantees to all investors the right to freedom of initiative and exercise of economic activity, in accordance with current legislation and regulatory provisions in each sector.

ARTICLE 4

(Guarantees and Property Protection)

1. The State guarantees, under the law, the protection of private ownership of all property, movable and immovable, tangible and intangible, its elements and integrating parts and transmission, in all its legal and commercial aspects, as well as compliance with contracts entered in accordance with the legislation in force.
2. The state guarantees to investors that no measure of nationalization, expropriation or requisition shall be taken except on grounds of public interest or utility, determined by means of non-discriminatory criteria and through due process. In this case, the State has to effect immediate payment of fair compensation.
3. The value of the compensation referred to above is obtained based on the outcome of the evaluation of the investment in accordance with market values, which are not, under any circumstances, below the book value of assets subject to nationalization, expropriation or requisition.

ARTICLE 5

(General Obligations)

Investment operations should be subordinated to the national law and rules arising from international treaties to which Guinea-Bissau is bound, in particular those relating to the protection of public health and hygiene, consumer protection, competition, environment protection, fight against desertification, product standardization and quality, payment of taxes and the adoption and maintenance of a proper and fully organized accounting, in accordance with the West African Accounting System (SYSCOA) and/or the Accounting System of the Organization for the Harmonization of Business Law in Africa (SYSCOHADA).

ARTICLE 6

(Equal Treatment)

In accordance with this Code and other laws, foreign and domestic investors enjoy equal treatment before the State and all its institutions.

ARTICLE 7

(Guarantee of transfer of foreign currency)

1. The State guarantees natural and legal persons the right to convert foreign currency into CFA francs and CFA francs into foreign currency and the remittance abroad of amounts due in respect of profits, dividends or repatriation of capital, as well as the payment of borrowed capital, interest, goods and services purchased or contracted with individuals or companies not resident in the national territory, according to the legislation in force.
2. The State guarantees the transfer abroad through the banking system, of dividends and profits, minus amortization and taxes due, and the repatriation of capital, taking into account the shares corresponding to foreign investment in the equity of their company.

3. Operations relating to the transfer, sale or liquidation of investments between residents and foreign investors are free and the export of the proceeds from the transfer, sale or liquidation of foreign investments is guaranteed, after deduction of the respective taxes and fees.

4. All staff employed by a foreign company and who are legally entitled to live and work in the country, have the right to transfer abroad all or part of the remuneration obtained in this company, subject to the fulfillment of tax obligations under the banking legislation in force.

ARTICLE 8

(Multilateral Guarantee)

The State may obtain from the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), the Investment Guarantee Fund (FAGACE) and other similar multilateral or bilateral agencies, the additional guarantees that may be necessary or that help promote investments in the country, being the government authorized to do so subject to the relevant rules.

ARTICLE 9

(Economic Freedom and Competition)

1. The State undertakes to combat practices that hinder free competition and restrict access to raw materials or semi-processed goods necessary to the operations of companies in normal market conditions.

2. Subject to the fulfillment of its obligations as provided in Article 5 of this Code, companies enjoy full freedom to carry out their economic activities, including to:

- a) Acquire assets, rights and concessions of any kind required for their activities, such as land assets, securities, real estate, commercial, forestry, industrial goods or others;
- b) Dispose of the rights and property acquired;
