2. In such a case, the Competent Authorities of the importing Signatory Party may deny preferential tariff treatment to new imports relating to identical goods from the same producer, until it is clearly demonstrated that the manufacturing conditions were modified so as to fulfill the provisions of this Chapter.
3. Once the Competent Authorities of the exporting Signatory Party have sent the information demonstrating that the manufacturing conditions were modified, the Competent Authorities of the importing Signatory Party shall have forty five (45) days, from the date of the receipt of the said information to communicate its decision on the matter, or a maximum of ninety (90) days if a new verification visit to the producer's premises, according to paragraph e) of Article 29 of this Chapter, is deemed necessary.

PREFERENTIAL SAFEGUARD MEASURES

Article 2

1. Preferential safeguard measures may be applied under the conditions established in this Chapter, when the imports of a good under preferential terms have increased in such quantities, absolute or relative to domestic production, and under such conditions as to cause or threaten to cause serious injury to the domestic industry of the importing Party or Signatory Parties concerned.
2. Preferential safeguard measure shall be applied only to the extent necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury.

Article 3

Preferential safeguard measures shall not be applied after four (4) years from the date of the finalization of the tariff elimination or reduction program applicable to the goods unless otherwise agreed by the Parties. After this period, the Joint Committee shall evaluate whether or not to continue the preferential safeguard measures mechanism referred to in this Chapter.

Article 4

1. MERCOSUR may adopt preferential safeguard measures:

- a) as a sole entity, as far as all requirements to determine the existence of serious injury or threat thereof, being caused by the imports of goods as a result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty provided for in this Agreement, have been fulfilled on the basis of conditions applied to MERCOSUR as a whole; or
- b) on behalf of one or more of its Member States, in which case the requirements for the determination of the existence of serious injury or threat thereof, being caused by the imports as a result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty provided for in this Agreement, shall be based on the conditions prevailing in the affected Member State(s) and the measure shall be limited to that Member State(s).

2. Egypt may apply preferential safeguard measures to the imports from MERCOSUR or MERCOSUR Member States where such serious injury or threat thereof is being caused by the imports of a good as a result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty provided for in this Agreement.

Any increase in the rate of customs duty on the good subject to preferential safeguard measures shall not exceed the applied MFN customs duty or base duty, whichever being the lowest.

Article 6

1. The Party that applies a preferential safeguard measure should establish an import quota within which the good concerned would benefit from the agreed preference established in this Agreement. This import quota shall not be lower than the average imports of the good concerned during the representative period over which serious injury was determined. A higher level of quota may be applied if it is duly justified.
2. In case a quota is not established, the preferential safeguard measure shall only consist of a reduction of the preference, which shall not be greater than 50% of the tariff preference established in this Agreement.

- b) the share of the internal market taken by increased preferential imports;
- c) the consequent impact on the domestic industry of the like or directly competitive goods, based on factors, including: changes in the level of sales, production, productivity, capacity utilisation, profits and losses and employment; and,

1. Each Party or Signatory Party shall establish or maintain published procedures for the application of preferential safeguard measures, in compliance with the provisions established in this Chapter. 1. Awards shall be enforced within the period of time established by the Arbitration Tribunal for compliance with the award. That period of time shall be final unless one of the parties justifies in writing the need for a different period of time. The Arbitration Tribunal shall render its decision within a period of 15 days from the date of the written request. The Arbitration Tribunal shall decide on the basis of the written submissions of the parties and shall convene a meeting for this purpose only under special circumstances.

Where the Arbitration Tribunal has not established in the award a period of time for compliance, the award shall be enforced within one hundred and eighty (180) days, unless the parties agree otherwise.

2. Before the end of the period of time established in accordance with the preceding paragraph, the party complained against shall notify the other party of the implementing measures that it has adopted or intends to adopt in order to comply with the award of the Arbitration Tribunal.
 3. In the event that there is disagreement between the parties concerning the consistency of the measure adopted to comply with the award, the complaining party may seek recourse to the original Arbitration Tribunal to rule on the matter, by submitting a written request to the other party and the Joint Committee explaining why the measure is inconsistent with the award. The Arbitration Tribunal will issue its decision within forty five (45) days of the date of its re-establishment.
 4. The complaining party shall be entitled, upon notification to the party complained against, to suspend the application of benefits granted under this Agreement at a level equivalent to the adverse economic impact caused by the measure found to violate this Agreement if:
 - a) the Arbitration Tribunal decides under paragraph 3 that the implementing measures adopted are not in compliance with the Arbitration award; or,
 - b) the party complained against fails to notify in due time the measures referred to in paragraph 2.
 5. The suspension of benefits shall be temporary and shall be applied only until the measure found to be in violation of the Agreement is withdrawn or amended so as to bring it into conformity with this Agreement or until the parties have agreed to settle the dispute.
 6. If the party complained against considers that the level of suspension is not equivalent to the adverse economic impact caused by the measure found to violate the Agreement, it may make a written request within thirty (30) days from the date of suspension for the reconvening of the original Arbitration Tribunal. The Joint Committee and the parties shall be informed of the Arbitration Tribunal's decision on the level of the suspension of benefits within thirty (30) days of the date of the request for its establishment.
 7. The party complained against shall submit to the complaining party a notification of the implementing measures it has adopted to comply with the award of the Arbitration Tribunal and of its request to end the suspension of benefits applied by the complaining party.
- The party complained against shall reply to any request from the complaining party for consultations on the implementing measures notified within ten (10) days of receipt of the request.

If the parties do not reach an agreement on the compatibility of the notified implementing measures with this Agreement within thirty (30) days of receipt of the request for consultations, either of the parties may request that the original Arbitration Tribunal decide on the matter within sixty (60) days of the notification of the implementing measures. The decision shall be issued within forty five (45) days of the written request for its re-establishment. If the Arbitration Tribunal decides that the implementing measure is not in conformity with this Agreement, it will determine whether the complaining party can resume the suspension of benefits at the same or a different level.

Article 21

In the event of the original Arbitration Tribunal, or some of its arbitrators, being unable to reconvene under Article 20 of this Chapter, the procedures set out in Article 14 of this Chapter shall apply.
