- (a) promotion of good regulatory practices based on risk management principles;

CHAPTER 7 TRADE REMEDIES

Section A I. Bilateral Safeguard Measures

Article 7.1: Definitions

For the purposes of this Section:

Bilateral safeguard measures means a safeguard measure described in Article 7.2;

Domestic industry means, with respect to an imported good, the producers as a whole of the like or directly competitive goods operating within the territory of a Party, or those producers whose collective output of the like or directly competitive goods constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of those goods;

Serious injury means a significant overall impairment in the position of a domestic industry;

Threat of serious injury means serious injury that, on the basis of facts and not merely on allegation, conjecture, or remote possibility, is clearly imminent; and

Transition period, in relation to a particular product, means the period from the entry into force of this Agreement until 5 years after the date on which the customs duties on that product are to be eliminated or reduced in accordance with Annex 2 (Schedules of Tariff Commitments), which shall not exceed 15 years starting from the date of entry into force of the Agreement in any circumstance.

Article 7.2: Application of Safeguard Measures

1. If, as a result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty under this Agreement, an originating good of the other Party is being imported into the territory of a Party in such increased quantities, in absolute terms or relative to domestic production, and under such conditions as to cause or threaten to cause serious injury to the domestic industry producing a like or directly competitive good, the Party may, to the extent necessary to prevent or remedy the serious injury to its domestic industry and to facilitate its domestic industry's adjustment:
 - (a) suspend the further reduction of any rate of customs duty on the good provided for under this Agreement; or

- (b) increase the rate of customs duty on the good to a level not to exceed the lesser of:
 - (i) the most-favoured nation applied rate of customs duty on the good in effect at the time the safeguard measure is taken; or
 - (ii) the base rate of customs duty specified in the Schedules included in Annex 2 (Schedules of Tariff Commitments) pursuant to Article 2.4 (Reduction or Elimination of Customs Duties).
- 2. The Parties understand that neither tariff rate quotas nor quantitative restrictions are permissible forms of a safeguard measure.

Article 7.3: Notification and Consultation

- 1. A Party shall immediately deliver a written notice to the other Party upon:
 - (a) initiating an investigation referred to in Article 7.4 relating to serious injury or threat of serious injury and the reasons for it;
 - (b) making a finding of serious injury or threat of serious injury caused by increased imports;
 - (c) applying or extending the imposition of a bilateral safeguard measure; and
 - (d) taking a decision to modify, including to progressively liberalise, a bilateral safeguard measure.
- 2. A written notice referred to in subparagraph 1 (a) shall include:
 - (a) a precise description of the originating good subject to the investigation including its heading and subheading under the Harmonized System and the national nomenclature of the Party;
 - (b) a summary of the reason for the initiation of the investigation; and
 - (c) the date of the initiation of the investigation and the period of investigation.

3. A Party shall provide to the other Party a copy of the public version of the report by its competent authority that is required under Article 7.4 1. The provided report to the other Party shall be in English.
4. A written notice referred to in subparagraphs 1(b) through (d) shall include:
 - (a) a precise description of the originating good subject to the bilateral safeguard measure including its heading and subheading under the Harmonized System and the national nomenclature of the Party;
 - (b) evidence of the serious injury or threat of serious injury caused by increased imports of the originating good of the Party as a result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty pursuant to this Agreement;
 - (c) a precise description of the proposed bilateral safeguard measure;
 - (d) the proposed date of the introduction of the bilateral safeguard measure, its expected duration, and, if applicable, a timetable for the progressive liberalisation of the bilateral safeguard measure referred to in Article 7.5.3; and
 - (e) in the case of an extension of the bilateral safeguard measure, evidence that the domestic industry concerned is adjusting.
5. A Party proposing to apply or extend a bilateral safeguard measure shall provide adequate opportunity for prior consultations with the other Party, with a view to, inter alia, reviewing the information provided under paragraphs 2 and 4 that has arisen from the investigation referred to in Article 7.4, exchanging views on the bilateral safeguard measure, and reaching an understanding on ways to achieve the objective set out in Article 7.7.

Article 7.4: Investigation Procedures

1. A Party shall apply a safeguard measure only following an investigation by its competent authority in accordance with Article 3 and Article 4.2 of the Safeguards Agreement. To this end, Article 3 and Article 4.2 of the Safeguard Agreement are incorporated into and made part of this Agreement, mutatis mutandis.
2. Each Party shall ensure that its competent authority complete the investigation referred to in paragraph 1 within one year following its date of initiation.

Article 7.5: Scope and Duration of Bilateral Safeguard Measures

1. Neither Party shall apply a safeguard measure:
 - (a) except to the extent, and for such time, as may be necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury and to facilitate adjustment;
 - (b) for a period exceeding two years, except that the period may be extended by up to one year if the competent authority of the importing Party determine, in conformity with the procedures specified in this Article, that the measure continues to be necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury and to facilitate adjustment and that there is evidence that the industry is adjusting, provided that the total period of application of a safeguard measure, including the period of initial application and any extension thereof, shall not exceed three years; or
 - (c) beyond the expiration of the transition period.
2. No bilateral safeguard measure shall be applied to the import of an originating good for a period of one year from the date of commencement of the tariff reduction or elimination for that originating good provided for under this Agreement.
3. No safeguard measure shall be applied again to the import of a particular originating good that has been previously subject to such measure for a period of time equal to the duration of the previous safeguard measure, provided that the period of non-application is at least two years.
4. In order to facilitate adjustment in a situation where the expected duration of the safeguard measure is over one year, the Party applying the safeguard measure shall progressively liberalised at regular intervals during its period of application.
5. When a Party terminates a safeguard measure, the rate of customs duty for the originating good subject to that safeguard measure shall be the rate that, according to the Party's Schedules in Annex 2 (Schedules of Tariff Commitments), would have been in effect but for that safeguard measure.

Article 7.6: Provisional Safeguard Measures

1. In critical circumstances where delay would cause damage which it would be difficult to repair, a Party may apply a provisional safeguard measure, which shall take the form of the measures set out in Article 7.2 pursuant to a preliminary determination by its competent authority that there is clear evidence that imports of an originating good from the other

Party have increased as the result of the reduction or elimination of a customs duty under this Agreement, and such increased imports have caused or are threatening to cause serious injury to a domestic industry of the importing Party.

2. Before a Party's competent authority may make a preliminary determination, the Party shall publish a public notice setting forth how interested parties, including importers and exporters, may obtain a non-confidential copy of the application requesting a provisional safeguard measure, and shall to the extent practicable, provide interested parties adequate opportunity after the date it publishes the notice to submit evidence and views regarding the application of a provisional safeguard measure.
3. The applying Party shall notify the other Party prior to applying a provisional safeguard measure and shall initiate consultations immediately after the provisional safeguard measure is applied.
4. The duration of any provisional safeguard measure shall not exceed 200 days, during which period the Party applying that provisional safeguard measure shall comply with the requirements of Article 7.4.
5. The Party shall promptly refund any tariff increases collected if the investigation described in Article 7.4 (1) does not result in a finding that the requirements of Article 7.2 are met.
6. A Party may not apply a provisional safeguard measure until at least 45 days after the date its competent authority initiates the investigation.

Article 7.7: Compensation

1. A Party proposing to apply or extend a bilateral safeguard measure shall, in consultation with the other Party, provide to the other Party mutually agreed, adequate means of trade compensation in the form of concessions having substantially equivalent trade effects or equivalent to the value of the additional customs duties expected to result from the measure. The Party applying a bilateral safeguard measure shall provide the opportunity to consult within 30 days of the date on which the bilateral safeguard measure was applied.
2. If the consultations referred to in paragraph 1 do not result in an agreement on trade compensation within 30 days of the commencement of such consultations, the other Party may suspend the application of substantially equivalent concessions to the trade in goods of the Party applying the bilateral safeguard measure.

3. A Party who intends to suspend the application of concessions shall deliver a written notice to the other Party applying the bilateral safeguard measure at least 30 days before it suspends the application of concessions in accordance with paragraph 2.
4. The right to suspend the application of concessions in accordance with paragraph 2 shall not be exercised for the first two years during which the bilateral safeguard measure is in effect, provided that the bilateral safeguard measure has been applied as a result of an absolute increase in imports and that such a bilateral safeguard measure conforms to the provisions of this Section.
5. The obligation to provide compensation under paragraph 1 and the right to suspend the application of concessions in accordance with paragraph 2 shall cease on the termination of the bilateral safeguard measure.
6. Any compensation shall be based on the total period of application of the bilateral safeguard measure including, if applicable, the period of application of any provisional safeguard measure.

II. Global Safeguard Measures

Article 7.8: Global Safeguard Measures

1. Each Party retains its rights and obligations under Article XIX of the GATT 1994 and the WTO Safeguards Agreement. This Agreement does not confer any additional rights or obligations on the Parties with regard to global safeguard measures taken under Article XIX of the GATT 1994 and the Safeguards Agreement.
2. A Party taking a global safeguard measure shall exclude imports of an originating good of the other Party as long as its share of imports of the product concerned in the importing Party does not exceed three per cent of total imports of the concerned product, provided that developing country Members with less than three per cent import share collectively account for not more than nine per cent of total imports of the product concerned.
3. Neither Party shall apply, with respect to the same good, at the same time:
 - (a) a bilateral or provisional safeguard measure; and
 - (b) a measure under Article XIX of the GATT 1994 and the Safeguards Agreement.

2. On receipt by a Party's competent authority of a properly documented countervailing duty application with respect to imports from another Party and before initiating an investigation, the Party shall, as appropriate and in conformity with the procedural rules provided for in the domestic laws and regulations of the Party, provide written notification to the other Party of its receipt of the application and afford the other Party a meeting to consult with its competent authority regarding the application.

Article 7.11: Disclosure of Essential Facts

The investigation authority of a Party shall ensure, before a final determination made, disclosure of all essential facts under consideration which form the basis for the decision whether to applying definitive measures. This is without prejudice to Article 6.5 of the Anti-Dumping Agreement and Article 12.4 of the SCM Agreement. Disclosures shall be made in writing and allow interested parties sufficient time to make their comments.

⁵ If a Party undertakes a market-access commitment in relation to the supply of a service through the mode of supply referred to in subparagraph (a) of the definition of "trade in services" contained in Article 8.1, and if the cross-border movement of capital is an essential part of the service itself, that Party is thereby committed to allow such movement of capital. With respect to the services sectors inscribed in its Schedule of Specific Commitments, and subject to any conditions and qualifications set out therein, each Party shall accord to services and service suppliers of the other Party, in respect of all measures affecting the supply of services, treatment no less favourable than that it accords to its own like services and service suppliers.⁷

⁶ Subparagraph 2(c) does not cover measures of a Party which limit inputs for the supply of services.

⁷ Specific commitments assumed under this Article shall not be construed to require either Party to compensate for any inherent competitive disadvantages which result from the foreign character of the relevant services or service suppliers.

In the consultations, the Parties shall aim to ensure that a general level of mutually advantageous commitments no less favourable to trade than that provided for in the Schedule of Specific Commitments prior to such consultations is maintained. Modifications of Schedules are subject to any procedures adopted by the Joint Committee established in Chapter 16 (Administration of the Agreement).

1. In sectors where specific commitments are undertaken, each Party shall ensure that all measures of general application affecting trade in services are administered in a reasonable, objective, and impartial manner.
 - (a) Each Party shall maintain or institute as soon as practicable judicial, arbitral or administrative tribunals or procedures which provide, on request of an affected service supplier, for the prompt review of, and where justified, appropriate remedies for, administrative decisions affecting trade in services. Where such procedures are not independent of the agency entrusted with the administrative decision concerned, the Party shall ensure that the procedures in fact provide for an objective and impartial review.
 - (b) The provisions of subparagraph (a) shall not be construed to require a Party to institute such tribunals or procedures where this would be inconsistent with its constitutional structure or the nature of its legal system.
3. Where authorisation is required for the supply of a service on which a specific commitment under this Agreement has been made, the competent authorities of each Party shall:
 - (a) within a reasonable period of time after the submission of an application considered complete under domestic laws and regulations, inform the applicant of the decision concerning the application;

- (b) in the case of an incomplete application, on request of the applicant, identify all the additional information that is required to complete the application and provide the opportunity to remedy deficiencies within a reasonable timeframe;
 - (c) on request of the applicant, provide without undue delay information concerning the status of the application; and
 - (d) if an application is terminated or denied, to the extent possible, inform the applicant in writing and without delay the reasons for such action. The applicant will have the possibility of resubmitting, at its discretion, a new application.
4. With a view to ensuring that measures relating to qualification requirements and procedures, technical standards, and licensing requirements do not constitute unnecessary barriers to trade in services, in sectors where specific commitments are undertaken, the Parties shall aim to ensure that such requirements are:
- (a) based on objective and transparent criteria, such as competence and the ability to supply the service;
 - (b) not more burdensome than necessary to ensure the quality of the service; and

Such recognition, which may be achieved through harmonisation or otherwise, may be based upon an agreement or arrangement between the Parties or their relevant competent bodies, or may be accorded autonomously.
2. Where a Party recognises, by agreement or arrangement, the education or experience obtained, requirements met, or licenses or certifications granted in the territory of a non-party, that Party shall afford the other Party adequate opportunity to negotiate its accession to such an agreement or arrangement, whether existing or future, or to negotiate a comparable agreement or arrangement with it. Where a Party accords recognition autonomously, it shall afford adequate opportunity for the other Party to demonstrate that the education, experience, licences, or certifications obtained or requirements met in that other Party's territory should also be recognised.
3. A Party shall not accord recognition in a manner which would constitute a means of discrimination between the other Party and non-Parties in the application of its standards or criteria for the authorisation, licensing or certification of service suppliers, or a disguised restriction on trade in services.
4. The Parties agree to encourage, where possible, the relevant bodies in their respective territories responsible for issuance and recognition of professional and vocational qualifications to:
 - (a) strengthen cooperation and to explore possibilities for mutual recognition of respective professional and vocational qualifications; and

Article 8.15: Restrictions to Safeguard the Balance-of-Payments

1. The Parties shall endeavour to avoid the imposition of restrictions to safeguard the balance of payments.
2. Where any of the Parties to this Agreement is in serious balance of payments difficulties, or under threat thereof, it may adopt or maintain restrictive measures with regard to trade in services, including on payments and transfers.
3. The rights and obligations of the Parties in respect of such restrictions shall be governed by paragraphs 1 to 3 of Article XII of the GATS, which are hereby incorporated into and made part of this Agreement. A Party adopting or maintaining such restrictions shall promptly notify the Joint Committee thereof.

Article 8.16: Denial of Benefits

Article 8.17: Review

With the objective of further liberalising trade in services between them, the Parties agree to jointly review their Schedules of Specific Commitments, taking into account any services liberalization developments as a result of on-going work under the auspices of the WTO.

ANNEX 8B
TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

Article 1: Scope and Definitions

1. This Annex shall apply to measures by Parties affecting trade in public telecommunications transport networks and services. It shall not apply to measures relating to broadcasting or cable distribution of radio or television programming, except to ensure that cable or broadcast service suppliers may have access to and use of public telecommunications transport services.¹
2. This Annex shall apply subject to laws, regulations, and license conditions, as applicable within the territory of each Party. For greater clarity, for provision of services covered under this Annex, a service supplier is required to obtain a license from the regulatory authority.
3. Nothing in this Annex shall be construed to:
 - (a) require a Party to authorise a service supplier of the other Party to establish, construct, acquire, lease, operate, or provide telecommunications networks or services, other than the former Party's commitments under Annex 8A;
 - (b) require a Party to compel any service supplier under its jurisdiction to establish, construct, acquire, lease, operate, or provide telecommunications transport networks or services where such networks or services are not offered to the public generally;
 - (c) require a Party to compel any service supplier exclusively engaged in the broadcast or cable distribution of radio or television programming to make available its broadcast or cable facilities as a public telecommunications transport network; or
 - (d) prevent a Party from prohibiting persons operating private networks from using their networks to supply public telecommunications transport networks or services to third parties.
4. For the purpose of this Annex:

A regulatory authority means the body or bodies authorized with any of the regulatory tasks assigned in relation to the issues mentioned in this Annex;

¹ "Broadcasting" shall be defined as provided for in the relevant domestic law of each Party.

Dispute resolution body means a domestic public body within the relevant Party's jurisdiction authorized with resolving disputes;

Essential facilities means facilities of a public telecommunications transport network or service that:

- (a) are exclusively or predominantly provided by a single or limited number of suppliers; and
- (b) cannot feasibly be economically or technically substituted in order to supply a service;

Interconnection means linking with suppliers providing public telecommunications networks or services in order to allow the users of one supplier to communicate with users of another supplier and to access services provided by another service supplier;

Leased circuits means leased telecommunications facilities between two or more designated points that are set aside for the dedicated use of, or availability to, particular users;

Major supplier means a supplier which has the ability to materially affect the terms of participation (having regard to price and supply) in the relevant market for basic telecommunications services as a result of:

- (a) control over essential facilities; or
- (b) the use of its position in the market.

Public telecommunications transport network means the public telecommunications infrastructure which permits telecommunications between and among defined network termination points;

Public telecommunications transport service means any telecommunications transport service required, explicitly or in effect, by a Party to be offered to the public generally. Such services may include, inter alia, telegraph, telephone, telex, and data transmission typically involving the real-time transmission of customer-supplied information between two or more points without any end-to-end change in the form of the customer's information;

Telecommunications means the transport of electromagnetic signals such as sound, data image and any combination thereof. The sector of telecommunications services does not cover the economic activity consisting of content provision which requires telecommunications services for its transport.

Article 2: Competitive Safeguards

1. Each Party shall adopt or maintain appropriate measures for the purpose of preventing suppliers who, alone or together, are a major supplier from engaging in or continuing anti-competitive practices.
2. The anti-competitive practices referred to in paragraph 1 shall include, in particular:
 - (a) engaging in anti-competitive cross-subsidization;
 - (b) using information obtained from competitors with anti-competitive results; and
 - (c) not making available to other suppliers of public telecommunications transport networks or services, on a timely basis, technical information about essential facilities and commercially relevant information which are necessary for them to provide services.

Article 3: Interconnection²

1. Any supplier licensed to provide telecommunications services shall have rights of interconnection with other providers of publicly available telecommunications networks and services, in such manner as may be prescribed by a Party's laws and regulations. Interconnection rates should in principle be based on cost or be based on otherwise regulated rates for the suppliers concerned.
2. An interconnection point in the major supplier's network shall be subject to negotiations between the service suppliers and to technical feasibility. In the event that the service suppliers encounter difficulties with said negotiations, the competent authority shall be able to intervene and rule, in accordance with the Parties' relevant regulations. Such negotiations shall ensure that interconnection agreements are concluded:
 - (a) under non-discriminatory terms, conditions (including technical standards and specifications) and rates³ and of a quality no less favorable than that provided for its own like services or for like services of non-affiliated service suppliers or for its subsidiaries or other affiliates; and
 - (b) in a timely fashion, on terms, conditions (including technical standards and specifications) and at cost-oriented rates that are transparent, reasonable, having regard to economic feasibility,

² For greater certainty, the term "interconnection", as used in this Annex, does not include access to unbundled network elements.

³ For greater certainty, interconnection rates may be commercially negotiated between suppliers of public telecommunications transport networks or services.

and sufficiently unbundled so that the supplier of public telecommunications transport networks or services need not pay for network components or facilities that it does not require for the services to be supplied.

3. Each Party shall ensure that a supplier of public telecommunications transport networks or services in its territory does not use or provide commercially sensitive or confidential information of, or relating to, users acquired as a result of interconnection arrangements other than for the purpose of providing these services.
4. Nothing in this Annex restricts the right of a Party to protect personal data, personal privacy and the confidentiality of individual records and accounts, and other information protected under law.

Article 4: Universal Service

Each Party has the right to define the kind of universal service obligation it wishes to have. Such obligation shall not be regarded as anti-competitive per se, provided that they are administered in a transparent, objective, non-discriminatory, and neutral manner with respect to competition, and are not more burdensome than necessary for the kind of universal service defined by the Party.

Article 5: Licensing Procedure

1. Where a license is required for the supply of a public telecommunications transport network or service, the competent authority of a Party shall make the following publicly available:
 - (a) the terms and conditions for such a license; and
 - (b) the period of time normally required to reach a decision concerning an application for a license.
2. The competent authority of a Party shall notify the applicant of the outcome of its application without undue delay after a decision has been taken. In case a decision is taken to deny an application for a license, the competent authority of a Party shall make known to the applicant, upon request, the reason for the denial.

Article 6: Independent Regulatory Authority

1. Each Party's telecommunications regulatory authority shall be separate from, and not accountable to, any supplier of public telecommunications transport networks or services.

2. Each Party shall ensure that the decisions of, and the procedures used by, its telecommunications regulatory authority are impartial with respect to all market participants.

Article 7: Scarce Resources

1. Each Party shall ensure that its procedures for the allocation and use of scarce telecommunications resources, including frequencies and numbers, are carried out in an objective, timely, transparent, and non-discriminatory manner. Each Party shall make publicly available the current state of allocated frequency bands, but detailed identification of frequencies allocated for specific government uses shall not be required.
2. When assigning a spectrum for commercial telecommunications services, each Party shall endeavor to rely as a rule on market-based approaches, taking full account of the promotion of competition and public interests.

Article 8: Resolution of Telecommunications Disputes

Each Party shall ensure that:

- (a) a supplier of public telecommunications networks or services of the other Party may submit a recourse to the former Party's regulatory authority or other dispute resolution body to resolve telecommunications disputes regarding major suppliers in accordance with the laws and regulations of the former Party;
- (b) a supplier that has requested interconnection with a major supplier, has recourse to its regulatory authority to resolve disputes regarding appropriate terms, conditions and rates for interconnection with that major supplier within a reasonable timeframe; and
- (c) suppliers of public telecommunications networks or services aggrieved by the decisions of its regulatory authority have recourse to appeal to an independent administrative body and/or a court in accordance with the Party's laws and regulations.

Article 9: Transparency

Each Party shall ensure that relevant information on conditions affecting access to and use of public telecommunications transport networks and services is publicly available, including:

- (c) information on bodies responsible for the preparation and adoption of standards affecting such access and use;
- (d) conditions applying to attachment of terminal or other equipment to the public telecommunications network; and
- (e) notifications, permits, registration or licensing requirements, if any.

Article 10: Flexibility in the Choice of Technologies

1. Neither Party may prevent suppliers of public telecommunications transport networks and services from having the flexibility to choose the technologies that they use to supply their services, including commercial mobile wireless services, subject to requirements that the Party believes to be necessary to satisfy legitimate public policy interests, provided that any measure restricting such choice is not prepared, adopted, or applied in a manner that creates unnecessary obstacles to trade.
2. For greater certainty, nothing in this Annex shall be construed to prevent a telecommunications regulatory body from requiring the proper license or other authorization to supply each public telecommunications transport service.

Article 11: Access and Use⁴

1. Each Party shall ensure that any service supplier of the other Party is accorded access to and use of public telecommunications networks and services, including leased circuits, offered in its territory or across its borders on a timely basis, and on terms and conditions that are reasonable, non-discriminatory, and transparent, inter alia, through paragraphs 2 through 6, subject to the terms and conditions of the license granted to the service supplier.
2. Subject to paragraphs 5 and 6, each Party shall ensure that service suppliers of the other Party are permitted to:
 - (a) purchase or lease and attach terminal or other equipment which interfaces with a public telecommunications network and which is necessary to supply their services;

⁴ For greater certainty, this Article does not prohibit any Party from requiring a service supplier to obtain a license to supply a public telecommunications network or service in its territory.

- (b) connect leased or owned circuits with public telecommunications transport networks and services or with circuits leased or owned by another service supplier; and
 - (c) use operating protocols of their choice.
- 3. Each Party shall ensure that service suppliers of the other Party may use public telecommunications transport networks and services for the movement of information in its territory or across its borders, including for intra-corporate communications of such service suppliers, and for access to information contained in databases or otherwise stored in machine-readable form in the territory of any Party.
- 4. Notwithstanding paragraph 3, a Party may take measures that are necessary to ensure the security and confidentiality of messages and to protect the personal information of end users of public telecommunications networks or services, provided that such measures are not applied in a manner which would constitute a means of arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination or a disguised restriction on trade in services.
- 5. Each Party shall ensure that no condition is imposed on access to and use of public telecommunications networks and services, other than as necessary to:
 - (a) safeguard the public service responsibilities of suppliers of public telecommunications networks and services, in particular their ability to make their networks or services available to the public generally;
 - (b) protect the technical integrity of public telecommunications networks or services; or
 - (c) protect public interest or safety.
- 6. Provided that they satisfy the criteria set out in paragraph 5, conditions for access to and use of public telecommunications networks and services may include:
 - (a) a requirement to use specified technical interfaces, including interface protocols, for connection with public telecommunications networks and services;
 - (b) a requirement, where necessary, for the interoperability of public telecommunications networks and services;
 - (c) type approval of terminal or other equipment which interfaces with public telecommunications networks and technical requirements relating to the attachment of such equipment to public telecommunications networks;

- (d) a restriction on connection of leased or owned circuits with public telecommunications networks or services or with circuits leased or owned by other service suppliers; or
- (e) a requirement for notification and licensing.

Article 12: Treatment by Major Suppliers

Each Party shall ensure that a major supplier in its territory accords to suppliers of public telecommunications networks or services of the other Party treatment no less favourable than that such major supplier accords in like circumstances to its subsidiaries and affiliates, or non-affiliated service suppliers, regarding:

- (a) the availability, provisioning, rates, or quality of like public telecommunications services; and
- (b) the availability of technical interfaces necessary for interconnection.

Article 13: Provisioning and Pricing of Leased Circuit Services

Each Party shall ensure that a major supplier in its territory provides suppliers of public telecommunications networks or services of the other Party with leased circuit services that are public telecommunications services, on a timely basis, and on terms and conditions and at rates that are reasonable, non-discriminatory, and transparent.

Article 14: Unbundling of Network Elements

Each Party shall endeavour to ensure that a major supplier in its territory offers access to network elements on an unbundled basis on terms and conditions that are reasonable, non-discriminatory, and transparent for the supply of public telecommunications services. A Party may determine the network elements required to be made available in its territory, and the suppliers that may obtain those elements, in accordance with its laws and regulations.

Article 15: International Mobile Roaming

1. The Parties shall endeavour to cooperate on promoting transparent and reasonable rates for international mobile roaming services that can help promote the growth of trade among the Parties and enhance consumer welfare.

4. If a Party (hereinafter referred to as “the first Party” in this paragraph) chooses to regulate rates or conditions for wholesale or retail international mobile roaming services, it shall ensure that a supplier of public telecommunications services of the other Party (hereinafter referred to as “the second Party” in this paragraph) has access to the regulated rates or conditions for wholesale or retail international mobile roaming services for its customers roaming in the territory of the first Party if the second Party has entered into an arrangement with the first Party to reciprocally regulate rates or conditions for wholesale or retail international mobile roaming services for suppliers of the two Parties.⁵ The first Party may require suppliers of the second Party to fully utilise

⁵ For greater certainty:

- (a) no Party shall, solely on the basis of any obligations owed to it by the first Party under a most-favoured-nation provision, or under a telecommunications-specific non-discrimination provision, in any international trade agreement, seek or obtain for its suppliers the access to regulated rates or conditions for wholesale or retail international mobile roaming services that is provided under this Article.
- (b) access to the rates or conditions regulated by the first Party shall be available to a supplier of the second Party only if the regulated rates or conditions are reasonably comparable to those reciprocally regulated under the arrangement. The telecommunications regulatory body of the first Party shall, in the case of a disagreement, determine whether the rates or conditions are reasonably comparable. For the purposes of this footnote, “rates or conditions that are reasonably comparable” means rates or conditions agreed to be such by the relevant suppliers or, in the case of a disagreement, determined to be such by the telecommunications regulatory body of the first Party.

- (g) producer of a phonogram means a person that takes the initiative and has the responsibility for the first fixation of the sounds of a performance or other sounds, or the representations of sounds;
- (h) publication of a performance or phonogram means the offering of copies of the performance or the phonogram to the public, with the consent of the right holder, and provided that copies are offered to the public in reasonable quantity;
- (i) with respect to copyright and related rights, the term right to authorise or prohibit refers to exclusive rights.

Article 11.31: Right of Reproduction

Each Party shall provide⁶ to authors, performers and producers of phonograms⁷ the exclusive right to authorise or prohibit all reproduction of their works, performances or phonograms in any manner or form, including in electronic form.

Article 11.32: Right of Communication to the Public

⁶ For greater certainty, the Parties understand that it is a matter for each Party's law to prescribe that works, performances or phonograms in general or any specified categories of works, performances and phonograms are not protected by copyright or related rights unless the work, performance or phonogram has been fixed in some material form.

⁷ References to "authors, performers, and producers of phonograms" refer also to any of their successors in interest.

Without prejudice to Articles 11(1)(ii), 11 bis(1)(i) and (ii), 11ter(1)(ii), 14(1)(ii), and 14bis(1) of the Berne Convention, each Party shall provide to authors the exclusive right to authorise or prohibit the communication to the public of their works, by wire or wireless means, including the making available to the public of their works in such a way that members of the public may access these works from a place and at a time individually chosen by them.⁸

Article 11.33: Right of Distribution

Each Party shall provide to authors, performers and producers of phonograms the exclusive right to authorise or prohibit the making available to the public of the original and copies⁹ of their works, performances and phonograms through sale or other transfer of ownership.

Article 11.34: Related Rights

1. Each Party shall accord the rights provided for in this Chapter with respect to performers and producers of phonograms: to the performers and producers of phonograms that are nationals¹⁰ of the other Party; and to performances or phonograms first published or first fixed¹¹ in the territory of the other Party.¹² A performance or phonogram shall be considered first published in the territory of a Party if it is published in the territory of that Party within 30 days of its original publication.
2. Each Party shall provide to performers the exclusive right to authorise or prohibit:
 - (a) the broadcasting and communication to the public of their unfixed performances, unless the performance is already a broadcast performance; and

⁸ The Parties understand that the mere provision of physical facilities for enabling or making a communication does not in itself amount to communication within the meaning of this Chapter or the Berne Convention. The Parties further understand that nothing in this Article precludes a Party from applying Article 10bis(2) of the Berne Convention.

⁹ The expressions "copies" and "original and copies", that are subject to the right of distribution in this Article, refer exclusively to fixed copies that can be put into circulation as tangible objects.

¹⁰ For the purposes of determining criteria for eligibility under this Article, with respect to performers, a Party may treat "nationals" as those who would meet the criteria for eligibility under Article 3 of the WPPT.

¹¹ For the purposes of this Article, fixation means the finalization of the master tape or its equivalent.

¹² For greater certainty, in this paragraph with respect to performances or phonograms first published or first fixed in the territory of a Party, a Party may apply the criterion of publication, or alternatively, the criterion of fixation, or both. For greater certainty, consistent with Article 11.7 of this agreement, each Party shall accord to performances and phonograms first published or first fixed in the territory of another Party treatment no less favourable than it accords to performances or phonograms first published or first fixed in its own territory.

- (b) the fixation of their unfixed performances.
- 3. Each Party shall provide to performers and producers of phonograms the exclusive right to authorise or prohibit the broadcasting or any communication to the public of their performances or phonograms, by wire or wireless means,^{13, 14} and the making available to the public of those performances or phonograms in such a way that members of the public may access them from a place and at a time individually chosen by them.
- 4. Notwithstanding paragraph 3 and Article 11.36, the application of the right referred to in paragraph 3 to analog transmissions and non-interactive free over-the-air broadcasts, and exceptions or limitations to this right for those activities, is a matter of each Party's law.¹⁵

Article 11.35: Term of Protection for Copyright and Related Rights

Each Party shall provide that in cases in which the term of protection of a work, performance or phonogram is to be calculated:¹⁶

- (a) on the basis of the life of a natural person, the term shall be not less than the life of the author and 50 years after the author's death;¹⁷ and
- (b) on a basis other than the life of a natural person, the term shall be:

¹³ With respect to broadcasting and communication to the public, a Party may satisfy the obligation by applying Article 15(1) and Article 15(4) of the WPPT and may also apply Article 15(2) of the WPPT, provided that it is done in a manner consistent with that Party's obligations under Article 11.7 of this Agreement.

¹⁴ For greater certainty, the obligation under this paragraph does not include broadcasting or communication to the public, by wire or wireless means, of the sounds or representations of sounds fixed in a phonogram that are incorporated in a cinematographic or other audio-visual work.

¹⁵ For the purposes of this subparagraph the Parties understand that a Party may provide for the retransmission of non-interactive, free over-the-air broadcasts, provided that these retransmissions are lawfully permitted by that Party's government communications authority; any entity engaging in these retransmissions complies with the relevant rules, orders or regulations of that authority; and these retransmissions do not include those delivered and accessed over the Internet. For greater certainty this footnote does not limit a Party's ability to avail itself of this subparagraph.

¹⁷ The Parties understand that if a Party provides its nationals a term of copyright protection that exceeds life of the author plus 70 years, nothing in this Article or Article 11.7 shall preclude that Party from applying Article 7(8) of the Berne Convention with respect to the term in excess of the term provided in this subparagraph of protection for works of another Party.

- (i) not less than 50 years from the end of the calendar year of the first authorised publication¹⁸ of the work, performance or phonogram; or
- (ii) anonymous and pseudonymous works are protected for a period of 50 years as of the beginning of the calendar year subsequent to the year in which such works have been first published,¹⁹
- (iii) performance or phonogram, not less than 50 years from the end of the calendar year of the creation of the work, performance or phonogram.

Article 11.36: Limitations and Exceptions

1. With respect to this Section, each Party shall confine limitations or exceptions to exclusive rights to certain special cases that do not conflict with a normal exploitation of the work, performance or phonogram, and do not unreasonably prejudice the legitimate interests of the right holder.
2. This Article does not reduce or extend the scope of applicability of the limitations and exceptions permitted by the TRIPS Agreement, the Berne Convention, the WCT or the WPPT.

Article 11.37: Balance in Copyright and Related Rights Systems

Each Party shall endeavour to achieve an appropriate balance in its copyright and related rights system, among other things by means of limitations or exceptions that are consistent with Article 11.36, including those for the digital environment, giving due consideration to legitimate purposes such as, but not limited to: criticism; comment; news reporting; teaching, scholarship, research, and other similar purposes; and facilitating access to published works for persons who are blind, visually impaired or otherwise print disabled.^{20, 21}

Article 11.38: Contractual Transfers

¹⁸ For greater certainty, for the purposes of subparagraph (b), if a Party's law provides for the calculation of term from fixation rather than from the first authorised publication, that Party may continue to calculate the term from fixation.

¹⁹ In case the author of such works has been known or specified or has disclosed his identity, the protection will be lifetime of the author and fifty years thereafter commencing as of the beginning of the calendar year subsequent to the author's death.

²⁰ As recognised by the Marrakesh Treaty.

²¹ For greater certainty, a use that has commercial aspects may in appropriate circumstances be considered to have a legitimate purpose under Article 11.36.

Each Party shall provide that for copyright and related rights, any person acquiring or holding any economic right²² in a work, performance or phonogram:

- (a) may freely and separately transfer that right by contract; and
- (b) by virtue of contract, including contracts of employment underlying the creation of works, performances or phonograms, shall be able to exercise that right in that person's own name and enjoy fully the benefits derived from that right.²³

Article 11.39: Obligations concerning Protection of Technological Measures and Rights Management Information

1. Each Party shall provide adequate legal protection and effective legal remedies against the circumvention of effective technological measures that are used by authors, performers or producers of phonograms in connection with the exercise of their rights as provided under Articles 11.31 through 11.34 of this Agreement, that restrict acts, in respect of their works, performances or phonograms, which are not authorised by the authors, performers or producers of phonograms concerned or permitted by law.
2. Each Party shall provide adequate and effective legal remedies against any person who knowingly, without authorisation removes or alters any electronic rights management information and/or distributes, imports for distribution, broadcasts or communicates to the public, without authority, works or copies of works knowing that electronic rights management information²⁴ has been removed or altered without authority.

Article 11.40: Collective Management

The Parties recognise the role of collective management societies for copyright and related rights in collecting and distributing royalties based on practices that are fair, efficient, transparent and accountable, which may include appropriate record keeping and reporting mechanisms.

²² For greater certainty, this provision does not affect the exercise of moral rights.

²³ Nothing in this Article affects a Party's ability to establish: (i) which specific contracts underlying the creation of works, performances or phonograms shall, in the absence of a written agreement, result in a transfer of economic rights by operation of law; and (ii) reasonable limits to protect the interests of the original right holders, taking into account the legitimate interests of the transferees.

²⁴ For the purpose of clarity, "rights management information" shall be interpreted to be as provided under Article 12 of the WCT.

Section H: Enforcement

Article 11.41: General Obligation in Enforcement

Each Party shall ensure that enforcement procedures as specified in this Section are available under its law so as to permit effective action against any act of infringement of intellectual property rights covered by this Chapter, including expeditious remedies to prevent infringements and remedies that constitute a deterrent to future infringements. These procedures shall be applied in such a manner as to avoid the creation of barriers to legitimate trade and to provide for safeguards against their abuse.

Article 11.42: Border Measures

1. Each Party shall, in conformity with its domestic law and regulations and the provisions of Part III, Section 4 of the TRIPS Agreement adopt or maintain procedures to enable a right holder, who has valid grounds for suspecting that the importations of counterfeit trademark or pirated copyright goods may take place, to lodge an application in writing with the competent authorities, in the Party in which the border measure procedures are applied, for the suspension by that Party's customs authorities of the release into free circulation of such goods.
2. A Party may enable such an application to be made in respect of goods which involve other infringements of intellectual property rights, provided that the requirements of Part III, Section 4 of the TRIPS Agreement are met. A Party may also provide for corresponding procedures concerning the suspension by the customs authorities of the release of infringing goods destined for exportation from their territory in accordance with its domestic laws and regulations.

The respondent Party shall, on request of the complaining Party, enter into consultations with a view to agreeing on a mutually satisfactory agreement or any necessary compensation.

2. If the parties fail to reach a mutual satisfactory agreement or to agree on compensation within 30 days of the date of receipt of the request made in accordance with paragraph 1, the complaining Party may deliver a written notification to the respondent Party that it intends to suspend the application to that Party of benefits or other obligations under this Agreement. panel has found to be inconsistent with this Agreement or have caused nullification or impairment;¹

- (b) the complaining Party may suspend benefit in other sectors, if it considers that it is not practicable or effective to suspend benefits or other obligations in the same sector; and
 - (c) in the selection of the benefits to suspend, the complaining Party shall endeavour to take into consideration those which least disturb the implementation of this Agreement.
6. The suspension of benefits or other obligations shall be temporary and shall only apply until the inconsistency of the measure with the relevant covered provisions which has been found in the final report has been removed, or until the Parties have agreed on a mutually satisfactory agreement or any necessary compensation.
7. If the respondent Party considers that the suspension of benefits does not comply with paragraphs 4 and 5, that Party may request in writing the original panel to examine the matter no later than 15 days after the date of receipt of the notification referred to in paragraph 2. That request shall be notified simultaneously to the complaining Party. The original panel shall notify to the parties its decision on the matter no later than 30 days after the receipt of the request from the respondent Party. That request shall be notified simultaneously to the respondent Party. The decision of the panel shall be notified to the Parties no later than 30 days after the date of submission of the request. If the panel decides that the measure notified in accordance with paragraph 1 is consistent with the relevant covered provisions, the suspension of benefits or other obligations, or the application of the compensation, shall be terminated no later than 15 days after the date of the decision. If the panel determines that the notified measure achieves only partial compliance with the covered provisions, the level of suspension of benefits or other obligations, or of the compensation, shall be adapted in light of the decision of the panel.

Article 14.24: Suspension and Termination of Proceedings

If both Parties so request, the panel shall suspend for a period agreed by the Parties and not exceeding 12 consecutive months. Once a Party has selected the forum and initiated dispute settlement proceedings under this Chapter or under the other international agreement with respect to the particular measure referred to in paragraph 2, that Party shall not initiate dispute settlement proceedings in another forum with respect to that particular measure unless the forum selected first fails to make findings on the issues in dispute for jurisdictional or procedural reasons.
